Extra-curricular Activity

Name of Activity: Speech Competition
Prepared by: Ms. Pande N. S.	Date: 09 th September 2024

Introduction:

On September 9, 2024, the Computer Users' Club of the Computer Science & Engineering Department at MGM's College of Engineering, Nanded, organized a heartfelt Teachers' Day celebration in honour of Dr. Sarvepalli Radhakrishnan's contributions to education. The celebration began with a Saraswati Poojan, followed by the garlanding of Dr. Radhakrishnan's photograph and the ceremonial lighting of the lamp by the Head of the Department, Dr. A. M. Rajurkar, and esteemed faculty members.

The event featured a series of activities dedicated to showing gratitude for the teachers. Students from the Computer Users' Club paid homage to the HOD, as well as to all teaching and non-teaching staff, for their invaluable guidance and support. Ms. Gauri Tammewar, a TY CSE A student, delivered an inspiring speech on Dr. Radhakrishnan's life, deepening the appreciation for teachers among all attendees. Faculty and students participated in engaging activities, including games, a ramp walk, and a speech competition. These activities fostered unity and strengthened the bonds within the academic community.

Outcomes:

The celebration served as a meaningful acknowledgment of teachers' contributions and emphasized their critical role in education and nation-building. It fostered an atmosphere of respect and appreciation for the faculty while strengthening student-teacher relationships. The speeches and activities promoted collaboration and support within the academic community, essential for students' holistic development.

Relevance with Program Outcomes:

1. Ethics (P08):

- The event highlighted the ethical responsibility students must respect and value their educators, reinforcing moral and ethical considerations in both professional and personal life.

2. Communication (P010):

- The speeches and interactions allowed students to practice and enhance their formal communication skills.

3. Teamwork (P09):

- The event's planning and execution fostered teamwork and leadership skills among the student organizers.

4. Lifelong Learning (PO12):

- Celebrating Teachers' Day inspired students to appreciate the journey of lifelong learning, both for themselves and their teachers, and to recognize the significance of continuous education.

Feedback:

- Positive Aspects:

- "The Teachers' Day event was heartwarming and made us truly appreciate the impact our teachers have on our lives."
- "The event was enjoyable, though the games could have been more inclusive to ensure everyone participated actively."

- Areas for Improvement:

- "Including more interactive sessions where students can directly share their thoughts with the teachers could enhance the event."
 - "Future events could include a broader range of activities to increase engagement and inclusivity."
